Stepping onto Seattle's green scene are three freshly opened shops featuring products that fulfill your eco-conscious interests. Each store has a distinct flavor. NuBe Green brims with products developed and manufactured solely in the United States; Sasquatch Studios carries an eclectic mix of reclaimed and sustainable products; and Dixie Stark Home, which is owned by interior designer Dixie Stark, offers romantically re-imagined vintage pieces housed within a recycled cargo-container structure. All of these shops are as unique as their owners, and each encourages Seattleites to embrace a less wasteful—and more stylish—lifestyle. ■
